Background

The rate of building construction in Uganda and East Africa (and indeed the whole world) is directly proportional to the population growth. In this era, over 60% of the population construct permanent or semi-permanent living structures, the majority of which require to be painted ultimately. This therefore means that the manufacture of paints must also be fast-tracked to cope with the demand. Uganda has reached an age of industrialization to feed both the domestic market and the foreign needs. It is for that reason that Scity Community Limited has come up with this innovation to contribute to the availability of quality paints. As our saying goes, you do the construction, we do the painting.
